Logan's Army Bill Comes Up in the Senate and He Explains Its Provisions.

The House Proceedings and News and Notes from the National Capital.

ENCOURAGED.

The Senate Will Soon Confirm Appointments.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Nominees to federal offices who have been in suspense during the squabble between the senate and the president will be relieved of their anxiety soon. It is believed that within a few days after the closing of the contention which has been pending so long a fixed understanding will be arrived at whereby some kind of disposition will be made of the many nominations which have been held up in the senate committees. The belief has gained ground that there will be a large number of confirmations and rejections follow upon the heels of the closing of the debate. It is a mistake to believe that the majority of the senate want to defeat the confirmation of good men.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Ex-Justice Ward Hunt died here this morning.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Secretary Manning is doing well and his physicians say everything is favorable.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS TO-DAY.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The Logan bill to increase the efficiency of the army was placed before the senate. Mr. Logan explained that under the proposed increase to 30,000 there would probably, owing to casualties, etc., be only about 27,000 effective men. Mr. Teller opposed the increase.

HOUSE.

Mr. Blanchard, from the committee on civil service reform, reported a resolution calling on various cabinet officers for information as to whether or not employees in their departments are permitted to employ substitutes, whether such substitutes are employed or appointed, and if so by whom and whether they have passed the civil service examination. Adopted.

Mr. Owen, from the committee on public buildings, reported a bill appropriating $45,000 for the improvement of the postoffice building at Indianapolis. Sent to committee on the whole.

The house resumed the consideration of the congressional library bill.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Secretary Manning, while walking up the stairs to his office, was attacked by vertigo so severely as to require the aid of his physician.

The house committee on shipping, by a vote of 7 to 6, instructed Representative Dunn to report favorably his free ship bill, with an added section authorizing the entry, free of duty, of the materials used in the construction of ships. All the republican members voted against the bill and all the democrats, except one, in favor of it.

All the Indiana members of the house supported the bill yesterday, giving the widow of the late General Hancock a pension of $2,000 a year.

The supervising architect recommends additional appropriations for the following public buildings: Frankfort, Ky., $15,000. Terre Haute, Ind., $28,000.

E. Zimmerman has been nominated for postmaster at Valparaiso, Ind.

Major General James R. Carnahan, of Indiana, commander-in-chief of the uniformed rank, Knights of Pythias throughout the world, was last night given a banquet at Abner's, where addresses were delivered. Washington and Nelson divisions of the uniformed rank acted as the escort to Gen. Carnahan.

R. H. Stewart, of Indiana, has been appointed a postoffice inspector, to begin April 1.

The fact that General McClelland, of Illinois, has been invited to visit Washington strengthens the rumor that he is to be tendered a place on the Utah commission.

E. K. Hosford was to-day appointed postmaster at Edinburg, Ind.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
PITTSBURG, March 24.—Mrs. Myres, who has been on trial for some days past on the charge of perjury, was found guilty this morning. She was one of the principals in a contest for the paternity of a kid.

A CAKE WALK.

How the Ladies and Gentlemen Inaugurated the New Club House at Congoville.

One of the amusements peculiar to fashionable colored society is the cake walk. Ladies and gentlemen in couples promenade up and down around a waxed floor for a prize. The prize is a great luscious cake, prepared specially for the occasion by a dandy colored cook. There are likewise money premiums, more valuable than the cake. Sums of $5, $15, $10 and $5 are variously distributed according to the grace and agility of the high steppers in the race—first, second, third or fourth class. Three or four judges, usually white gentlemen, sit in chairs in the center of the room, observe the gait of the belles and beaux, and decide on it. The couple that walks with most dignity and elegance take the cake. All the walkers must be dressed in the extreme of fashion and good clothes. This is an absolute requirement.

Colored society pays much more attention to its walk, if not to its conversation, than white folks do. The cake walk is especially the mode with hotel waiters, who comprise the most fashionable and aristocratic wing of colored society everywhere. In summer the competitions take place at watering place resorts; in winter, at large hotels and club houses in the city.

THEY TAKE THE CAKE.

"Doesn't he do me, does my boy Toussaint L'Ouverture Johnson, know what a cake walk is?" says Rev. Jones. "Ax Toussaint's granddaddy he knows what 'possum fat is!" But in Congoville the colored population have a club house all their own. They are advancing rapidly in civilization. They dedicated the club house with the most brilliant cake walk on record. All the wealth and beauty of Congoville were there. There were four prizes and ten couples competing for them. Toussaint L'Ouverture Johnson's shirt front blazed with the unspeakable glare of a $3 diamond. Miss Arethusa Simpkinson called with him. She wore a cream colored satin, brocade with hearts, and a Turkey red embroidered silk stockings. Miss Aredonia Golladay, an exquisite octonoon, wore brown satin, with an exquisite of pink feathers in her bonnet. Cid knew silk stockings. The ladies' bustles had the true V avenue wobble. Mr. Eugene Swalladay was Miss Aredonia's companion. He wore a shirt front and canary-colored kids.

The couples glided around to the melting strains of the air "Am I not fondly thine own" performed by the colored string band. The earnestness of gait, the turning out of the toes, the swelling of the chests, the coking of the chins in the air formed a picture of aesthetic beauty that lingers in the memory like a dream. The bewildering glare of the shirt fronts added not a little to the scene. Miss Arethusa Simpkinson was a beautiful brunette. Aredonia Golladay and Mr. Eugene Swalladay would have taken the cake only for one little matter. They walked the premium, but they could not take it. Alas! Mr. Swalladay did not wear a swallow-tail coat, but a Prince Albert. He was not therefore in full dress, and had to be ruled out. The requirements of society are strict.

The cake consequently fell to the next best couple, who were Miss Simpkinson and Mr. Johnson, the pair in the picture. The litho, rhythmic swing of their hip joints and elbows, has been caught by our artist on the spot with life-like fidelity. A prize of a frosted cake was also given for the most complicated walk. One who has seen the shins and doeses cut by a colored waiter entering a dining room with a loaded tray in his hands will understand what that means. It takes years to learn even the in and out elbow motion. Complicated? Rather. Mr. Alonzo Thompson took the prize for complicated walking. He spread himself out over half the room, till he looked a combination of parabolic curves and clockwork. He fetched the frosted cake amid the cheers of the multitude, while the eyes of his rivals stuck out with envy.

Bates was placed under arrest and taken to Richmond for safe keeping.

IT IS HEARST.

Senator Miller's Successor—The Lives of Both Men.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 24.—Governor Stoneman has appointed George Hearst to be United States senator, vice John F. Miller, deceased.

Mr. Hearst, who is now en route from Mexico to Washington, is a newspaper man and is the editor and proprietor of the San Francisco Examiner.

The late Senator John Franklin Miller exhibited in his last illness an amount of will power which recalls the heroic patience of Gen. Grant. It is said he lived on his nerve for a long time prior to his death, which was the result of a complication of disorders arising primarily from a severe wound in the eye received during the war, twenty-three years ago. The bullet remained in his head about twelve years before it could be extracted, and the wound sapped his strength and rendered him an easy victim to disease.

Gen. Miller was born in Indiana, in 1831, his parents being Virginians. He was a lawyer and then a state senator when the war broke out. He immediately resigned his senatorship and organized the Twenty-ninth Indiana regiment. He served in command of a brigade under Sherman, Buell, Rosecrans and Thomas, receiving severe wounds in the battles of Stone River and Liberty Gap, where he received the wound which destroyed his eye, and from the effects of which he never recovered. In 1864 he was made a brigadier general and the following year a brevet major general for conspicuous bravery.

Mr. Miller was a firm believer that there is such a thing as luck in business. His own career is often laced with an illustration. One day a ship's captain called upon him at his office in the San Francisco custom house. The captain showed him the custom skin of a seal, and said that he knew where millions of them could be obtained. He suggested to Mr. Miller that he furnish him with the means to fit up his vessel, and he would go on a seal-catching trip for a certain percentage of the profits. Mr. Miller declined to have anything to do with the project, but the captain was so persistent that Mr. Miller induced a few capitalists to subscribe a small sum. None of them had much faith in it, and Mr. Miller says that he never went into any business scheme with less thought. Behold! the captain returned with his vessel loaded with skins, and for a good consideration he revealed the locality of the seal islands. Keeping the discovery secret, the Alaska Seal company was formed, obtained the exclusive right to capture seals from the United States government, and in a few years had amassed immense fortunes.

Mr. Miller said that, curiously enough, every investment he made since then was profitable, though he exercised less care and business caution in so doing than he had in many investments before his luck changed.

Senator Miller was one of the rich men of the senate, and belonged to the coterie of that body familiarly known as the "Millionaires' club." He was a man of commanding presence when in good health. Mrs. Miller and a daughter survive him.

THE SITUATION CRITICAL.

That is the Report of the Strike—The Boycott.

SHIPPING BY WATER.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 24.—Armour & Co., this morning, began the loading of 500 tons of provisions on a steamer and will start for St. Louis and Cincinnati to-day.

St. Louis, March 24.—A special from Atchison to the Post-Dispatch says that the Missouri Pacific officials made two attempts this morning to send out freight trains, but failed, the strikers in both instances taking possession of the trains and stopping them. A freight train of fifteen cars was made up at the union depot and started over the Missouri Pacific tracks. At Seventeenth street a crowd called upon the engineer and fireman to leave their post, which they did. The mob soon became so dense that the police were summoned. Soon a force of 150 men, commanded by a corps of police and all the captains arrived. The crowd was then ordered to disperse, and upon refusing the police made a charge. During the struggle which ensued several strikers were badly beaten by the police, some of whom were, in turn, badly bruised from rocks thrown by the mob. After a brief fight the crowd was dispersed. Another engine drew the train away under a guard of about fifty police. No interference was met with within the city limits.

STILL GOING.

St. Louis, March 24.—The freight train that went out has been heard from at Kirkwood, twelve miles west of here, and passed there all right.

STRIKE AT ST. JOSEPH.

The Oakwood line struck to-day and it is expected two others will follow to-morrow. The moulders are all off duty to-day to help the strikers. The Glass cigar factory struck because the proprietor would not make it a union factory.

THE NIGHT NEWS.

The strike situation remains unchanged at St. Louis and Kansas City. At the latter place there are over 2,000 cars of freight in the yards. Near Sedalia alleged strikers unloosed the rails, wrecking a freight train, three persons receiving painful injuries. At Atchison a band of masked men entered the town house and disabled twelve locomotives. An attempt was made at Denison to prevent the departure of a train, but a sheriff's posse, armed with rifles, aved the mob, and the train pulled out.

Dr. Fletcher has under treatment at the state insane hospital a fine English spaniel, the property of Fletcher Hines, which is pronounced insane, having epileptic fits and other symptoms such as characterize some of the severe cases at the institution. The dog has also facial paralysis, and is altogether a proper subject for treatment.

"By the time the new state house is finished the salaries and expenses of the commissioners, secretary, superintendent, etc., will amount to almost $75,000, which is enough to build a fairly good state house by itself. However, so far as appearances go, and there is no evidence to the contrary, the building has been put up honestly and carefully, and there is reason to believe the commissioners' declaration, that it will be the best and cheapest house of the kind ever built in the country," says the Indianapolis News.

CHICAGO'S ARMORY.

The Military Building Proposed for that City.

(Special Correspondence.)
CHICAGO, March 17.—This is a city of big buildings, big ideas, big capitalists and big danger to capital. It seems as if our nation's Socialists are to be believed. It is nevertheless chiefly for this last reason that it is proposed to erect for the first regiment an armory that will be the grandest in the United States.

THE PROPOSED BUILDING.

The sketch, which was made from the architect's plans, does not give an adequate idea of the immensity of the proposed structure. It is to be erected north of Fourteenth street, between Michigan and Indiana avenues. The large ball or drill room, shown on the left in the picture, will be 200 by 200 feet, with two galleries and a stage 100 feet wide by 44 feet in depth. The floor at one end will be raised by hydraulic power, so as to give a gradual incline to the stage when this hall is used for concerts and other purposes. The main building, or armory proper, will have a frontage on Lake Michigan of 250 feet. It will contain besides the rooms necessary for the various military purposes, reception and billiard rooms, a gymnasium, dining room and immense kitchen. The first regiment was only organized twelve years ago, but it has already become Chicago's pride and pet.

STRAY LAND.

Sham Military Reputations.
As we year by year, grow away from the war, and the number of men who carried a rifle or swung a sponge staff among the guns grows smaller, the country is flooded with mythical accounts of this or that officer's wonderful display of courage on such and such fields, and the rising generation is called upon to admire the gallantry of the warlike commanders of their ancestors. I protest against the further manufacture of sham military reputations. I have seen some of it manufactured. I know, and all soldiers know, that the greater portion of the stories now current must be false. The privates in both the Union and Confederate armies did the fighting in our war. Theirs the poor pay and wretched food. Not a regiment of volunteers but had as intelligent men in the ranks as the one who commanded the division they belonged to. No general saved this republic. It was preserved by the staunch courage and intelligence and patriotism of the privates, who were victorious on many bloody battlefields in spite of the blundering incapacity of their commanders—Frank Wilkeson, in New York Sun.

As they were bringing them back to jail they were met by a mob who took the prisoners from the officers and strung all three up to a tree.

Foreman Barney Fitzpatrick has recovered from his recent severe illness and resumed his place in the Pittsburg shop yesterday.

Rev. J. F. Lang, the accomplished secretary to Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, lectured to a magnificent audience at Kalamazoo last night.

"William Wilkinson, manager of the Academy, Fort Wayne, was in the city over Sunday with his mother, who is very ill," says the Toledo Bee.

Mrs. William Moellering, wife of the Lafayette street druggist, left for Norwalk, Ohio, this morning. Her husband accompanied her as far as Toledo.

Dr. Arnold, of Kansas city, superintendent of hospital supplies on the Wabash road, was in the city to-day, consulting with Surgeon C. B. Stemen.

Hugh Stewart, the whilom Monroe-ville merchant, is in the city. A guarantee case in which he is interested, is booked before Judge O'Rourke to-day or to-morrow.

Mr. George W. Jones is a candidate for assessor on the Wayne township prohibition ticket. His name was unintentionally omitted yesterday, in speaking of the aspirants.

The supreme court yesterday decided the last of the telephone cases. It covers and sustains the constitutionality of the laws passed by the last legislature, for the regulation of telephones.

The funeral of John Hathaway will take place from his late residence on West Main street, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends of the family are invited to attend without further notice.

The municipal excursionists and some twenty invited guests left for Cleveland, Buffalo and Niagara Falls on the Nickel Plate road at 1:30. They expect to come back Saturday. Hon. R. C. Bell accompanied the party, and all are equipped for a pleasant trip.

THE EPIPHANY.

Its Celebration To-morrow for the Last Time—Decrees of Great Interest to Catholics.

To-morrow is the feast of the Epiphany, or annunciation, and the Catholic church observes it with great solemnity, first mass being celebrated at 5 o'clock in the morning and at customary hours thereafter. In a sensible letter to the pope the recent plenary council of Baltimore, in which Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger participated, represented the difficulty of Catholics observing properly the feast days now on the church calendar. Hence the fathers assembled at the third plenary council, most earnestly desiring that uniformity be introduced as to observing feasts, and having maturely considered the difficulties under which the faithful labor in the United States, determined to supplicate your holiness.

First—In order that, considering the peculiar circumstances of Catholics living in these provinces, you deign to declare, by apostolic authority, that in all the dioceses of the United States, the precept of hearing mass and abstaining from servile works oblige only as to the following feasts:

1, Immaculate Conception; 2, Christmas; 3, New Years; 4, Ascension Thursday; 5, Assumption of the Blessed Virgin; 6, All Saints Day.

The observance of these six feast days, in our condition of affairs and in our times, may be more reasonably hoped for.

Second—As to other feast days now of precept in certain localities, that your holiness, by apostolic benignity, free to the faithful of those localities from the obligation of hearing mass and abstaining from work, without, however, suppressing the same feasts as to devotion and external solemnity.

Third—Regarding the fast of Corpus Christi, that your holiness benignly grant that the solemnity of said feast be transferred to the first Sunday following the feast.

This letter was dated Baltimore, Dec. 23, 1884.

The 25th of November, 1885, Cardinal Simeoni, as head of the Propaganda, wrote Archbishop Gibbons in reply that on that day his holiness assented to the petition.

This releases the Catholics from the obligation heretofore existing, of abstaining from work and hearing mass—and that under penalty of mortal sin—on the feasts of the Epiphany, the annunciation, March 25, and Corpus Christi. Thus it is that the Epiphany is celebrated as a holy day for the last time, although it will always be prayerfully remembered.

Emma Molloy's Husband.

Ed Molloy, the divorced husband of Mrs. Molloy, who is now being tried for complicity in the murder of Sarah Graham, remarks as follows about George Graham, who is also in jail for the murder of Sarah Graham. Mr. Molloy is editor of the Laporte Herald-Chronicle. He says: "If ever there was a cowardly, murderous scoundrel who deserves hanging without judge or jury it is George E. Graham. He deceived one woman, murdered another and now threatens to slander a third. The wretch who will injure a woman, be she wife or friend, is too execrable to be tolerated by honorable men. People say because such a one is too mean to live that he is unfit to die. We don't think so. We believe that God in his infinite wisdom and mercy made a place for just such wretches, whom no kindness can influence or law restrain. They are cunning, selfish, lazy, cowardly devils, whose proper place is hell."

The warmer weather often has a depressing and debilitating effect. Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes all languor and lassitude.

OUT IN TWO.

Billy Burns, a Fort Wayne Boy, Frightfully Mangled on the Grand Rapids Road.

A telegram brought the sad tidings of the sudden death of Billy Burns, a Grand Rapids brakeman, at Cary, Mich., this morning. He stepped between a freight to make a coupling, and stumbling on a rail, he fell headlong on the track and the wheels of the freight cars cut his body into halves. Of course the unfortunate fellow died without a struggle. His fellow trainmen picked up the pieces and sent them on here for burial. The dead boy was twenty-two years of age and the third son of Patrick Burns, the Wabash machinist, who lives in the sixth ward. The family is prostrated at the sad news and his brother, Ed Burns, who holds a clerical position at the Fulman works, has been telegraphed for.

A New Veterans' Association.

"Articles of association were filed with the state secretary this morning of the 'State Veterans' association' of Indiana, Ohio and Michigan, the purpose of which is, as is stated, to hold an annual military reunion and encampment. All honorably discharged soldiers or sailors are eligible to membership, and the association is to consist of a board of directors, a board of military organization and an executive committee. The directors are John W. Young, L. Berry Smith, Willis D. Maier, B. F. Dawson, John C. Kensil, W. J. Hilligass, A. S. Helms and J. O. Hardesty. The articles of the association provide that when the membership shall be reduced to one hundred survivors, the funds remaining in the treasury shall be expended in erecting a soldiers' monument," says the Indianapolis News.

We have been selling your Athlophoros for about six weeks and have good sales. We have good reports from it, and in most of the cases of rheumatism and neuralgia the medicine has been of great benefit. J. H. Montgomery & Co., druggists, Decorah, Iowa.

Dr. Lemuel Moss, who, it will be remembered, figured prominently to the misfortune of Indiana university a year or more ago, has lately added to his reputation the character of swindler, in which Mrs. Margaret Morgan, of Indianapolis, is the victim to the amount of $5,000.

Real Estate Transfers.

Olds Bros., real estate agents, rooms No. 8, Foster block, report the following recorded real estate transfers:

Frances A. C. Parker to Hiram Porter, by warranty deed, 100 acres in De Rome reserve for $8,000.

Adams Township Teachers' Institute.

Last Saturday the teachers of Adams township held an institute at school house No. 4. The exercises were very interesting. J. G. Stokes, by a unanimous vote of the teachers present, was chosen chairman, and Miss Clara Douglass officiated as secretary. The exercises were varied, and consisted of an oration by Chairman Stokes, and an essay by Miss Della McMacken. Other subjects were judiciously treated by Misses Douglass, Zimmerman, Philley and others. Joe Mason furnished a bounteous repast for the intelligent pedagogues, for which he was heartily thanked.

A bushel of March dust is worth a king's ransom.
If March comes in like a lamb it goes out like a lion.
A windy March and a rainy April make a beautiful May.

Thousands of diabetics and dyspeptics, to whom starchy food is almost poison, (and if used, medicine is of little benefit,) might be saved by a proper diet. They were favored by the presence of Trustees Bullerman, of St. Joe township; Gaffney, of Wayne, and Horn, of Cedar Creek. Mr. Bullerman acted as chairman and Mr. Enrick secretary. The first subject on the program, "Examinations," was presented by Mr. Enrick in a manner creditable to himself. The next on the program, "Civil Government," was ably presented by Mr. Sites. A general discussion followed, in which the teachers and trustees participated. "How to use the map in teaching geography" was discussed by Miss McLaughlin. Mr. Horn and Mr. Holipeter, of Cedar Creek. "Should Ray's higher arithmetic be taught in our district schools," a subject of interest, was discussed by all. The committee on program and resolutions consisted of Messrs. Coleman and Durnell, and Messrs. Enrick, Elise and Sites. Messrs. HOW TO AVOID SCARS.

Scars are always unsightly, says the Springfield Republican, and are often painful or inconvenient, on account of their propensity to contract as they become older. Dr. Ward, of New York, asserts that they may be removed by manipulation, which he directs to be employed as follows: Place the ends of two or three fingers on a scar if it be a small one, and on the margin if it be large, and vibrate the surface on the tissues beneath. The surface itself is not to be subjected to any friction; all the motion must be between the integument and the deeper parts. The location of the vibratile motion should be changed every ten or fifteen seconds until the whole scar has been treated, if it be of moderate size. If the scar be the result of a large scald or burn, the margin only should be treated at first; the advances toward the center should be deferred until the nutrition of the margins has been decidedly improved. Only a little treatment should be applied to any one spot at the same time, but the vibrations should be repeated as many as twenty times a day, but never with sufficient frequency or severity to cause pain. If the scar becomes irritable suspend treatment until it subsides. In the course of two or three weeks of faithful treatment the surface of the scars of moderate size becomes more movable and will begin to form wrinkles like new skin when pressed from side to side. All these changes are due to improved nutrition, consequent on better blood circulation—the development of entirely new sets of blood in the cicatricial tissue.

THE EPIPHANY.

Its Celebration To-morrow for the Last Time—Decrees of Great Interest to Catholics.

To-morrow is the feast of the Epiphany, or annunciation, and the Catholic church observes it with great solemnity, first mass being celebrated at 5 o'clock in the morning and at customary hours thereafter. In a sensible letter to the pope the recent plenary council of Baltimore, in which Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger participated, represented the difficulty of Catholics observing properly the feast days now on the church calendar. Hence the fathers assembled at the third plenary council, most earnestly desiring that uniformity be introduced as to observing feasts, and having maturely considered the difficulties under which the faithful labor in the United States, determined to supplement your holiness.

First—In order that, considering the peculiar circumstances of Catholics living in these provinces, you deign to declare, by apostolic authority, that in all the dioceses of the United States, the precept of hearing mass and abstaining from servile works oblige only as to the following feasts:

1, Immaculate Conception; 2, Christmas; 3, New Year; 4, Ascension Thursday; 5, Assumption of the Blessed Virgin; 6, All Saints Day.

The observance of these six feast days, in our condition of affairs and in our times, may be more reasonably hoped for.

Second—As to other feast days now of precept in certain localities, that your holiness, by apostolic benignity, free the faithful of those localities from the obligation of hearing mass and abstaining from work, without, however, suppressing the same feasts as to devotion and external solemnity.

Third—Regarding the feast of Corpus Christi, that your holiness benignly grant that the solemnity of said feast be transferred to the first Sunday following the feast.

This letter was dated Baltimore, Dec. 23, 1884.

The 25th of November, 1835, Cardinal Simeoni, as head of the Propaganda, wrote Archbishop Gibbons in reply that on that day his holiness assented to the petition.

This releases the Catholics from the obligation heretofore existing, of abstaining from work and hearing mass—and that under penalty of mortal sin—on the feasts of the Epiphany, the annunciation, March 25, and Corpus Christi. Thus it is that the Epiphany is celebrated as a holy day for the last time, although it will always be prayerfully remembered.

Emma Molloy's Husband.

Ed Molloy, the divorced husband of Mrs. Molloy, who is now being tried for complicity in the murder of Sarah Graham, remarks as follows about George Graham, who is also in jail for the murder of Sarah Graham. Mr. Molloy is editor of the Laporte Herald-Chronicle. He says: "If ever there was a cowardly, murderous scoundrel who deserves hanging without judge or jury it is George E. Graham. He deceived one woman, murdered another and now threatens to slander a third. The wretch who will injure a woman, be she wife or friend, is too execrable to be tolerated by honorable men. People say because such a one is too mean to live that he is unfit to die. We don't think so. We believe that God in his infinite wisdom and mercy made a place for just such wretches, whom no kindness can influence or law restrain. They are cunning, selfish, lazy, cowardly devils, whose proper place is hell."

The warmer weather often has a depressing and debilitating effect. Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes all languor and lassitude.

OUT IN TWO.

Billy Burns, a Fort Wayne Boy, Frightfully Mangled on the Grand Rapids Road.

A telegram brought the sad tidings of the sudden death of Billy Burns, a Grand Rapids brakeman, at Cary, Mich., this morning. He stepped between a freight to make a coupling, and stumbling on a rail, he fell headlong on the track and the wheels of the freight cars cut his body into halves. Of course the unfortunate fellow died without a struggle. His fellow trainmen picked up the pieces and sent them on here for burial. The dead boy was twenty-two years of age and the third son of Patrick Burns, the Wabash machinist, who lives in the sixth ward. The family is prostrated at the sad news and his brother, Ed Burns, who holds a clerical position at the Pullman works, has been telegraphed for.

A New Veterans' Association.

The directors are John W. Young, L. Berry Smith, Willis D. Maier, B. F. Dawson, John C. Kensil, W. J. Hilligass, A. S. Helms and J. O. Hardesty. The articles of the association provide that when the membership shall be reduced to one hundred survivors, the funds remaining in the treasury shall be expended in erecting a soldiers' monument," says the Indianapolis News.

Adams Township Teachers' Institute.

Last Saturday the teachers of Adams township held an institute at school house No. 4. The exercises were very interesting. J. G. The exercises were varied, and consisted of an oration by Chairman Stokes, and an essay by Miss Della McMeekin. Other subjects were judiciously treated by Misses Douglas, Zimmerman, Phillely and others. Joe Mason furnished a bounteous repast for the intelligent pedagogues, for which he was heartily thanked.

March Proverbs.

March grass never did good. March dust brings grass and foliage. Snow in March is bad for fruit and grape vine.

A bushel of March dust is worth a king's ransom. If March comes in like a lamb it goes out like a lion.

A windy March and a rainy April make a beautiful May.
